After 21 Years

WE ARE entering our twenty-second year in business, and the increased patronage bestowed upon us during the past year leads us to believe that the Muller-Sealey standard of merchandise and service is appreciated.

From the beginning, the aim of every member of our organization has been to win the respect of garden owners, small and large, by placing at their disposal the finest seeds, bulbs, plants and garden requisites at a fair and reasonable price, coupled with service that is as faultless as is humanly possible. In all these years we have never lost a friend—and we consider our patrons friends—through inferior merchandise or unsatisfactory service.

Muller-Sealey have never aspired to be cheap—our sources of supply are the best the world affords and we are ever mindful of the fact that a few cents saved may mean appallingly disappointing results in our friends' gardens.

To all who have favored us with their patronage in the past, we extend our sincere thanks; to those who may be in receipt of our catalog for the first time, we offer, not only the finest seeds, bulbs and plants that money can buy, but also our advice and cooperation to help ease any garden problem confronting them. This service is not regulated by the size of orders sent us.

Either at our offices at 145 West 45th Street, New York City, or at our warehouses, 195 Montgomery Street, Jersey City, N. J., we welcome visitors. Inquiries by mail will also receive the same courteous attention.
